

Pam Tillis, Mandolin Rain song came and went, like the times that we spend I melt from the rain, under the carnival tent I'd laugh and he'd smile and it would last for a while you don't know what you got til you lose it all again

CHORUS:

listen to the mandolin rain listen to the music on the lake listen to my heart break, any time that he goes away listen to the banjo with a sad song driftin along listen to my tears roll down my face as he turns to go cool evening dance listenin to the bluegrass band takes the chill from the end til they play the last song and I'll do my time, keeping you off my kind but theres moments that I find I'm not feelin so strong

(REPEAT CHORUS)

Now on the lake shore I hear the love song of a summer storm, that played on the lake like a mandolin now its washin him away once again once again

REPEAR CHORUS
