

Pam Tillis, (You Just Want To Be) Weird

You just wanna be weird
You're just hopin' that someone will notice you
Go ahead and be weird
'Cause we know it's just a phase you're goin' through

You're so concerned with being cool
You're so concerned with being hip
And every move is for effect
But just how strange can you get
You haven't scratched the surface yet

Go ahead and be weird
Dye your hair so it will match your purple shoes
We all know that you're weird
We read your fashion statement in the village news
And I quote

You're so concerned with the absurd
You're so concerned with being heard
And everybody thinks you're it
There must be somethin' that I missed
I think your sense of humor's sick

You're so concerned with being cool
You're so concerned with being hip
And every move is for effect
But just how strange can you get
You haven't scratched the surface yet

You just wanna to be weird
Teach me how to be weird
Teach me how to be weird
