Panjabi MC, Good Morning

The one who is like a thin kite took the heart

She says hello in reply to hello To me, she looks a like a full moon of 14th day With wishing good morning, she took the heart The one who is like a thin kite took the heart With a sweet smile she won my heart She left nothing. She snatched everything There is dizziness from the bottle (bottle of alcohol) with out drinking She made me a wanderer With wishing good morning, she took the heart The one who is like a thin kite took the heart Her immature youth is striking hard It looks like she is roaming because she is hungry for love Friends, she looked through eye contact She asked me for love With wishing good morning, she took the heart The one who is like a thin kite took the heart She looked at us so innocently But now we worry what to do all the time He used to sit quietly and write songs He used to sit quietly and sing songs she destroyed his concentrations With wishing good morning, she took the heart
