Panzer AG, Mother

At first you made me listen I cannot play your frequency I suppose it was a lesson Cracking fingers, I can hear it

My nails stucked in the wall, teared off, my feets in concrete. Eyes shut tight, I just might start listening, a million wishes

I've poisoned your heart, can you forgive me? The ground is open beneat my feet I've killed our children for our convenience I clench my body to the roots of a tree
