

Papa Roach ft. Reach 454, Come Apart

I have seen it all come apart again
And I dont pretend its getting easier every day now
Look into the sky, give me strength within
And I dont pretend its getting easier every day now
And they try to tell me they know who we are
And they try to tell me we wont get that far
And we know that its not so far away
And we know that were closer every day
Its not so far away, its not so far away
Its not so far away
I have made mistakes, lost inside regret
And I dont pretend its getting easier every day now
I know Ill break free from words that try to scar
And I dont pretend its getting easier every day now
And they try to tell me they know who we are
And they try to tell me we wont get that far
And we know that its not so far away
And we know that were closer every day
Its not so far away, its not so far away
Its not so far away
Believe what you want to believe
Try to tell us we cant go on
Try to tell us we dont belong
Try to tell us we cant go on
Try to tell us we dont belong
And we know that its not so far away
And we know that were closer every day
Its not so far away, its not so far away
Its not so far away
We all know that we are its not so far
We all know that we are its closer every day
We all know that we are its not so far
We all know that we are its closer every day
Dont be afraid we know that its not so far away
