

Papa Roach, Live This Down

I always thought that I could trust you
But I guess that's not the case
All the years that I loved you
You were out there playing the games
You didn't think that I would find out
But it was written all over the place
Is it really what you want now
Then get the fuck out of my face
How could you deceive me?
I'm begging you to leave me
Go to hell, I'm better off without you
All is well, I'd rather be alone
To have you, to hold you
And never know you
Cause you sold me out
You're never gonna live this down
Never gonna live this down
How do you look in the mirror
How do you stand the sight of your face
If you made it any clearer
I could have seen right through the hate
And I'll never think about you
When I'm sleeping with all of your friends
And I'm hoping that you find out
Cause love is the sweetest revenge
How could you deceive me?
I'm begging you to leave me
Go to hell, I'm better off without you
All is well, I'd rather be alone
To have you, to hold you
And never know you
Cause you sold me out
You're never gonna live this down
Never gonna live this down
I always thought I could trust you
I always thought I could trust you
I always thought I could trust you
So go to hell, I'm better off without you
All is well, I'd rather be alone
To have you, to hold you
And never know you
Cause you sold me out
You're never gonna live this down
Never gonna live this down
