

Papa Roach, Unglued

Why would we try to bury ourselves
And cover the lies with all the stories we tell
Why would we want to be what we become
Just to go back and undo what we've done
Rip out the pages and try to erase it
Why would we run

It's tearing me away from you
Yeah it feels like we're coming unglued
Yeah it feels like we're breaking in two
What can we do
I call your line but I never get through
We're unglued

It's like no matter what we do
We're unglued
We're unglued

We're going down our signals are crossed
Who are we now, now that we're cutting our losses
Why would we want to be what we become
Just to go back and undo what we've done
Rip out the pages and try to erase it
Why would we run
How can we live with one foot in the grave
We know that deep down we just lost our way
How do we face all of this madness that's making us change

It's tearing me away from you
Yeah it feels like we're coming unglued
Yeah it feels like we're breaking in two
What can we do
I call your line but I never get through
We're unglued

It's like no matter what we do
We're unglued
We're unglued
It's like no matter what we do
We're unglued
We're unglued

Never would I lie
Never say never twice
Never more we were better for going through a couple hard times
When are we gon' find
Some peace and peace of mind
We can settle or, we can get along, there's a better way to get by

It's tearing me away from you
Yeah it feels like we're coming unglued
Yeah it feels like we're breaking in two
What can we do
I call your line but I never get through
We're unglued

It's like no matter what we do
We're unglued
We're unglued
It's like no matter what we do
We're unglued
We're unglued
