

Paperback Hero, For You

I've seen the rain fall
I've lived through winter's cold
I've felt the summer on my face
I've heard your whispers call out
I've shared the breathe you've exhaled
I've held you mornings while you sleep
I can't forget it was the last time that
You spoke those words
Gave me the voice to sing
It's all for you, all my love too, I smell morning rain
It's all for you, all my love too, I smell morning rain
I've seen the beauty fall out
I've lived with pain that held out
I've felt the heart consume your space
I've heard the voice of comfort
I've shared the fear of failure
I've stormed ahead with a driven embrace
I can't forget it was the last time on the open road
I heard the song of fate
It's all for you, all my love too, I smell morning rain
It's all for you, all my love too, I smell morning rain
Waitin, waitin for the sun to come
Thinkin, thinkin that it's 4, 3, 2, 1!
