Paperback Hero, For You

I've seen the rain fall I've lived through winter's cold I've felt the summer on my face I've heard your whispers call out I've shared the breathe you've exhaled I've held you mornings while you sleep I can't forget it was the last time that You spoke those words Gave me the voice to sing It's all for you, all my love too, I smell morning rain It's all for you, all my love too, I smell morning rain I've seen the beauty fall out I've lived with pain that held out I've felt the heart consume your space I've heard the voice of comfort I've shared the fear of failure I've stormed ahead with a driven embrace I can't forget it was the last time on the open road I heard the song of fate It's all for you, all my love too, I smell morning rain It's all for you, all my love too, I smell morning rain Waitin, waitin for the sun to come Thinkin, thinkin that it's 4, 3, 2, 1!