Paris, Electronic Overdose

My photocells react and contract your overloaded and fully stacked Your the latest out of a box latex covered on the rocks

Your sockets are so inviting and your surface feels exciting In my wires the frequency is rinsing high end circuits start fantasizing

Give me your electronic overdose your my electronic overdose

It tingles in your blood It touches your soft skin It calms your nervous bones and softly pulls your wild hair

Lets swim in a neon pool Lets walk on a carbon beach Lets play under the ir-sun and dream under the uv-moon
