

Paris Twila, Love's Been Following You

(Words and Music By Twila Paris)

I know sometimes it's hard to believe it
But Love's been following you
From where I stand I'm able to see it
And Love's been following you
All through the stormy night
Didn't you see the light
Goodness and mercy right there behind you
Love's been following you
Some days your heart just couldn't be colder
But Love's been following you
All you have earned just make you feel older
But Love's been following you
You think that no one cares
Still Love is always there
He would go anywhere just to find you
Love's been following you
Love has been following you
Love's been following you
Love has been following you
Following you
Following you
Somehow the road just seems to get longer
But Love's been following you
Wait for the One who will make you stronger
'Cause Love's been following you
Wherever you go from here
Run far away from fear
Keep one thing very near and believe it's true
Love's been following you
Love's been following you
Love's been following you
