

Park Ave., Invitation To A Closet

She invites me to a closet, the night glows in her eyes
And i know now what she wanted, she&#039;d been hinting it all this time
And i don&#039;t mean to scare you but i&#039;ve wanted this for so long
To have you forever, and she kissed me and said
This is the way we communicate in the dark
This is the way we communicate in the dark
It&#039;s just the way we communicate.
It&#039;s just the way we communicate.
She told she told she told she told she told everyone but it didn&#039;t happen
She told she told she told she told she told everything and it finally happened
She told she told she told she told she told everyone but it didn&#039;t happen
She told, well i knew that you would be around
Not so fast, is there anything i can do to keep you here tonight?
She told she told she told she told she told everything and it finally happened
She told, well i didn&#039;t think twice about asking her
Because i&#039;d heard the lies so many times
I&#039;m starting to believe that they are true

She was searching for attention
She told everyone but me
And i thought that she&#039;d forgotten
Hey, well, i guess it couldn&#039;t be
And then finally one day she built up the lust to ask me the question &quot;is this real or just...&quot;
It&#039;s just the way we communicate in the dark
It&#039;s just the way we communicate in the dark
It&#039;s just the way we communicate.
It&#039;s just the way we communicate.

She told she told she told she told she told everyone but it didn&#039;t happen
She told she told she told she told she told everything and it finally happened
She told she told she told she told she told everyone but it didn&#039;t happen
She told, well i knew that you would be around
Not so fast, is there anything i can do to keep you here tonight?
She told she told she told she told she told everything and it finally happened
She told, well i didn&#039;t think twice about asking her
Because i&#039;d heard the lies so many times
I&#039;m starting to believe that they are true.
