

Parkway Drive, Shadow Boxing

do you see me
do you see what t I've become
I am not the same beast
I leave a scar on all I touch you think you know me now is it better than I know myself I know it hurts like hell admitting just how you've misjudged all my life I;ve been told the same old don't step out, don't test the mound we know your kind, we know yu so much better than you know yourself see the ones that won't engage me are the same trying to cage me but I can't sit till and I won't be tame when the lights go out better know your enemy because I've sent a lifetime shadowboxing whit death and we'll dance whit the devil till there's no songs left

I am not the same beast
is it better than I know myself

you don't know me,
you cannot owe me the path I am on don't fit the old me I bare my soul as I keel evolving and I chase this tastefor blood see, I learned real young don't seek no gold trust no fool and you won't get sold I never fears the dark no, I just become it when the lights go dead you better pray you'rw safe kid because I've spent a lifetime shadowboxing whit death and we'll dance with the devil

I try to keep my cool and not let this hate win I find thi mask I wear can't keep the darkness in the worls you know was born to fade we'll dance upon thi s grave
you don't know me,
you cannot hold me
you should have quessed that you can't control me I raise my soul like a private arm and I steel myself for war because I learned real young when you walk through hell the dvin can't buy, what you won't sell soi tok my fear, reshaped and aimed because when the night caves in no one will save you so we'll dance with the devil
