

Party, Ton Of Bricks

TON OF BRICKS written by Deborah Gibson

Something unexpected

Something so new

Something so crazy

Crazy like you

I mean, I knew you had a reputation

(Of flirtation)

And I knew you had a messed up mind

But, you went and did it this time

Chorus:

You hit me, hit me, hit me

Like a ton of bricks

You hit me, hit me, hit me

Like a ton of bricks

You told me all about all the boys you loved

Every single romance you were ever dreaming of

Of course you knew I wasn't shy

(You knew I was that type of guy)

I told you open up your eyes and see

I didn't know you had your eye on me

Bridge

You could've prepared me for this Shocking experience

I can't even speak to you

Never mind giving you an answer

We've joked around but you were never serious

(At least I never was)

But girl you really went and did it, did it

Girl ya really did it this time

Chorus
