LIPSTICK LIES

Pat Benatar

Written by: N. Giraldo, P. Giraldo & M. Grombacher

From the album "Live From Earth";

You've gotta admit, you paint a pretty picture

No one would ever suspect, your so adept at the art

I hear the lonely lover sigh

You hide behind cosmetic eyes

Kiss them off with Lipstick Lies

Lipstick Lies won't hide the truth

They won't keep you waterproof

The victim of your vanity

You're the Picasso of pain, a fantasy in fleshtone

And though you're never the same

You're never far from the mark

Now and then you close your eyes

To see the heartbreak in disguise

Kiss them off with Lipstick Lies

Lipstick Lies won't hide the truth

They won't keep you waterproof

The victim of your vanity

You see just what you want to see

Who's to blame?

Love is love by any name

Who's to blame?

Lipstick Lies won't hide the truth

They won't keep you waterproof

The victim of your vanity

You see just what you want to see

Who's to blame?

Love is love by any name

Who's to blame?

Love is love by any name

Who's to blame?

Love is love by any name

Who's to blame?
