

Pat Green, College

We were just young kids with a six pack
That a bad fake ID bought.
Sittin' on the living room couch hopin that we didn't get caught And when we did, my dad had some good advice for me He said Son, there's a time and place for just about everything it's called College

Next thing I know I'm packing up and headin on out of here.
a backseat full of clothes,
and my old cavalier
ANd there's empty pizza boxes stacked all around the room Couple of beers on a Tuesday and one in the afternoon
hey, college

Those were the best days of my life
I found my friends, myself, and my wife.
learned almost everything that I know
without ever gaining knowledge
in college....yeah college

I had such a good time those four years that I stretched them into six.
And I'd like to thank ole George's Bar for the the classes that I missed
I was searching for the meaning of life
When i saw her walk my way.
There was not doubt in my my mind
That it wasn't about a GPA

Those were the best days of my life
I found my friends, myself, and my wife.
learned almost everything that I know
without ever gaining knowledge
in college....yeah college.

Those were the best days of my life
I found my , myself, my friends and my wife.
learned almost everything that I know
Might have gained a little knowledge

in college....yeah college
in college in college..yeah yeah yeah...
