Pat Green, Crazy

Saw you early this morning Sleeping all dressed in white

For a moment I thought you were an angel

Come to take me home alive

You woke up and you caught me staring

You smiled and said " Hey, cut it out "

You said that I must be crazy

I said crazy about you, and I kissed you on the mouth

Chorus:

And if I am truly crazy, don't you know I like my life that way

If I'm really, going all out of my mind,

Won't you hop on board, and make your getaway

Took a walk down by the seashore

Saw a beggar picking up some cans

Saw a little boy who had some salt in his eye

Reaching out for his momma's hand

Then I watched a stranger give that man a dollar

Watched the momma wipe the tears from the little boy's eyes

Then I stared up into the heavens

Said "Oh my God I'm glad that I'm alive

So Glad that I'm alive!"

Chorus:

And if I am truly crazy

Don't you know I like my life that way

(that way)

If I'm really, going all out of my mind,

Won't you hop on board, and make your getaway

Wake up in the morning to turn all the lights on

Turn 'em out at night so we can hide

Sometimes I sleep with all the lights on

It helps me to appreciate the night

Hear people talk about life all the time

How they remember a time so sad

Don't you think that life would be awfully boring

If the good times were all that we had

Chorus:

And if I am truly crazy, don't you know I like my life that way

If I'm really, going all out of my mind,

Won't you hop on board, and make your getaway

And if I am truly crazy, don't you know I like my life that way (that way)

If I'm really going all out of my mind

Would you hop on board and make your getaway?

Hop on board and make your... getaway...
