

Pat Green, Whiskey

by Pat Green

2000 Greenhorse Music/BMI. All Rights Reserved

Momma cried when you left me, Know she's always loved you so, She said hey fool what the hell o

CHORUS

And tonight all the dancehalls are empty

No lovers on the floor

So I'll sit here with my whiskey

Drink it till I just can't drink no more

And I don't know why you had to leave me, All I really know is that you are gone, long gone, And ev

CHORUS

And tonight you know this whole damn town is empty

And I don't think I can take it anymore

So I'll sit here with my whiskey

Drink it till I just can't drink no more

A Late night phone call from the East Coast, Said she had enough, She's coming on back home, G

CHORUS

And tonight you know this whole damn house is empty

Tomorrow will be like it was before

So I'll put away my whiskey

Guess I just don't need it anymore

Yeah I'll put away my whiskey

Guess I just don't need it anymore