

Pato Banton, Never Too Late

You are one of us ocean warriors in the fight to save the oceans waves and beaches of this water planet and the life that dwells therein.
Ooh ocean warriors...
Ooh ocean warriors...
There is still time to change this.

It's never too late to make a positive change.
Never too late.

Tell me what must I say what more can I do to get this message over to you.
Every man every woman boy and girl
it's up to us to save this world.

Now Mr. Banton come to tell them.
It's plain to see obviously planet earth's in a state of emergency.
The birds and bees, plants and trees lakes and seas, air that we breath.
Everyday we wipe another species
we constantly create new diseases.
All the while we pollute more beaches and nobody wants to pick up the pieces.
Ooh ocean warrior...
Come to break down all the barrier.
Ooh ocean warrior..
Yes we are the life force carrier.

With the planetary man made pollution
we are messing with the law of evolution.
Causing atmospheric dissolution
God knows we need a solution.
Calling ark angels and seraphim life carriers and cherubim.
Big people and little sibling life is a struggle but we never give in hey hey!

The ocean has always been one of life's ultimate playgrounds and most powerful spirits.
May all of our natural playgrounds be there for our children's children's children
We can do this.
