

Patrice, Love

Say I need you like the moon need the sun to shine,
yeah every second you depon my mind.

Say I need you like the moon need the sun to shine,
yeah every second you depon my mind say,

Have you ever seen the world with loving eyes,
Well it is beautiful and nice and every moments a suprise yeah,
Have you ever heard of the things them sound with loving ears ,
Well it will make you feel so fine and make you wanna dance and smile.

Do you know what words can do when there is love in them
It can crown grils to queens, and beggars to kings saying,
Love is the reason for everything, and that is why, why I a sing say,

I need you like the moon need the moon to shine,
yeah every second you depon my mind.
Say I need you like the moon need the sun to shine,
yeah every second you depon my mind say,
I need you like the moon need the sun to shine,
yeah every second you depon my mind.
I need you like the moon need the sun to shine,
yeah every second you depon my mind.

I say good god love is in danger,
Me searching so long, but it's just hate I find Good god say I feel like a stranger, Me walked through the city and it just sex them like,

Oh it's just real love I look for,
But all this land has to offer,
Is hatred and shame

But I need you like the moon need the moon to shine,
yeah every second you depon my mind.
I need you like the moon need the sun to shine,
yeah every second you depon my mind
I need you like the moon need the sun to shine,
yeah every second you depon my mind.
I need you like the moon need the sun to shine,
yeah every second you depon my mind.
