

Patrick Wolf, Lycanthropy

I was once a boy.
till i cut my penis off and i grew a hairy skull of stubborn fire

then i was a girl.
till i sewed my hole up and i grew a hairy heart of dark desire
but there's no answer. just surrender send all your barriers into the fire and let no foot. mark your ground let no hand hold you down. you were once so sad till you cut your suffer off now you please yourself and fight your own wars and you were once so weak till you sewed your wounds up now youve learnt to sing about sun and shine!

be you own hero
be your own saviour send all your suffering into the fire
