Patsy Cline, I Can't Forget You

Written by W.S. Stevenson and Carl Belew

I can't forget you I've got these memories of you I can't forget you I'll always be loving you

Once we were happy We were so carefree and gay Then something happened And you went away

I can't forget you Please tell me what must I do My memories haunt me Because I'll always love you

Where are you darlin'
Are you with someone new
I can't forget you
I'll always be loving you

(I can't forget you)
(I've got these memories of you)
(I can't forget you)
(I'll always be loving you)

I can't forget you Please tell me what must I do My memories haunt me Because I'll always love you

Where are you darlin' Are you with someone new I can't forget you I'll always be loving you...
