

Patty Loveless, My Heart Will Never Break This Way

In every life there comes a love like this Too blind with trust to know the Judas kiss
And as sure as your love changes with the wind
My heart will never break this way again

Many times I'll walk alone here on this street
But my tears will never taste so bittersweet
Knowing that someday this pain will end
And my heart will never break this way again

CHORUS:

Oh, we hold on, we hold on to moments just like these
The painful memories will make you strong
And it's too bad, so sad when your innocence is gone
It's wasted on the ones that do you wrong

And I know that I will love again someday
But never quite enough, that's how I'll pay
Loving you too much, that was my sin
And my heart will never break this way again

REPEAT CHORUS
