

Patty Loveless, The Rainbow Down The Road

Who's your lover
Love 'em all
Hold 'em close til the last card falls
Think about all the hands you should have called
Hide your feelings
Hide your heart
You can hide the fire
But you can't hide the sparks
The deck is stacked and you can't fool destiny long

So darlin' meet me
High on a hill north of nowhere
We head west to a dream south of somewhere
We can steal a little magic and make it our own
At the rainbow down the road
At that rainbow down the road

For every long shot
There's a sure one
For every heartache
There's a true love
You can bet on the one

That's standin' right here

They say that love is foolish
Well I should know
I'm the kinda' fool
That never lets go
Just follow your heart
And I'll be waitin' right there

So meet me up high on a hill north of nowhere
We head west to a dream south of somewhere
We can steal a little magic
And make it our own
At the rainbow down the road

High on a hill north of nowhere
We head west to a dream south of somewhere
We can steal a little magic
And make it our own
At the rainbow down the road
At that rainbow down that road