

Patty Smyth, Make Me A Believer

Make me a believer baby
I want to believe in the power of love
Make me a believer baby
Cuz I feel the strength of your love
Ooh yeah
Now now

I learned about love like a game you play
And when it don't mean nothing to you, you give it away
But that was nothing more than infatuation
Just a long long promise of a sweet sensation

I need a love like I've never known
The kind of love that you feel in your bones
I learn how, now I want to know why
So take me to the highest high

And make me a believer
I want to believe in the power of love
Make me a believer baby
I just want to feel the strength of your love

You can't learn about love from a magazine
There is no match made in heaven
Ain't no living dream a love now I need a love
Make me come undone, tell me why
I get the feeling honey, you're the one

To feel the power of your tender touch
I never wanted a man so much
Yeah, I know how, now I want to know why
So take me to the highest high

And make me a believer
I want to believe in the power of love
Make me a believer baby

I want to receive the power of love
Make me a believer
I just want to feel the strength of your love

We are each only have of a life
As a mother is half of a child
There's a freedom that true love can bring
But you gotta let your heart run wild

And make me a believer baby
I want to believe in the power
Make me a believer baby
I just want to feel the strength of your love
Make me a believer baby
I wanna receive the power of love
Make me a believer baby
