Paul Anka, Summers Gone

We had been friends for a year and a day Always around for each other When I got lost you remembered the way We were like sister and brother But last night was wine Together till dawn And something entirely different was born This is it This is love, unlike ever before I can't work, I can't eat, I can't sleep anymore Acting like a mad hatter But nothing's the matter, it's love We helped each other through sad love affairs Turning the tears into laughter Ev'ryone said that our friendship was rare Not even we saw all the love that was there But last night was wine Together Ill dawn And something incredibly wond'rous was born This is it This is love, unlike ever before I can't work, I can't eat, I can't sleep anymore Acting like a mad hatter But nothing's the matter, it's love I'm running in circles I'm walking on clouds Gonna open the window and shout it out loud This is it This is love, unlike ever before I can't work, I can't eat, I can't sleep anymore Acting like a mad hatter

But nothing's the matter, it's love