

Paul Colman, Nothing Without You

I gave my eyes to the media
I gave my heart to the fame
Walked into church like a pop star
I murdered Abel
Im the Cain
I gave my word then I broke it
Thought I was 10 ft 10
Quoted the Bible then revoked it
Then I did it all again

Then you took me in
And taught me how to love
Became everything
That Id been chasing after and dreaming of
I got to the end
And everything was meaningless
Chasing after the wind
Everything means nothing without you

I took my food from the trash can
I traded gold for the swine
I kissed Jesus in the garden
Then I shouted crucify
I threw my rocks at the sinners
Then I sang with the saints
I ate your grace for my dinners
But I choked on your name
