

Paul Colman, Sweet River

Feel fear surround me
Closing in as the night comes down
My hands are heavy
Dark shadows are growing long
I turn and look behind me
Cold sweat chills me to the bone
Dark voices call me
Turn away from the path you're on

Sweet river of love come save me
Holy water of grace release me now
Wash away the fear and the evil sounds
Sweet voices of angels sing loud
The name above all names is with me now
Fear go where every knee shall bow

Five hours till morning
Every sound becomes my dream
I'm too scared to cry out
My sins parade on silver screen
See the face of angels
Torn from heaven by the deepest pride
And my heart cries out your name
Over and over and over again