

Paul Oakenfold, Southern Sun (Gabriel And Dres

piece by piece
I release
once was mine
now undone
turn blue like New Orleans and then down like
the southern sun
I still feel you
beneath my skin
I am tempted
to throw myself 'to the sea
'cause its easier to fly
than to face another night of southern sun and your love is all around
piece by piece
i release
once was mine
now undone
turn blue New Orleans
and then down like
the southern sun
I still feel you
beneath my skin
I am tempted
to throw myself 'to the sea
and your love is all around,
in the air to set me free
set me free
you last like a song I'm deflated I am pieces on the wind unrelated I still feel you beneath my skin I am tempted to throw my self to the sea
'cause its easier to fly
and your love is all around
set me free
set me free
