

Paul Van Dyk, Time Of Our Lives

There's a time for us to let go
There's a time for holding on
A time to speak, a time to listen
There's a time for us to grow
There's a time for laying low down
There's a time for getting high
A time for peace, a time for fighting
A time to live, a time to die
A time to scream, a time for silence
A time for truth against the lie
A time for faith, a time for science
There's a time for us to shine
There's a time for mixed believing
There's a time to understand
A time for hurt, a time for healing
A time to run, and make a stand
This is the time
Of our lives...
