

Paul Weller, Who Brings Joy

you who brings joy
into the world
makes me swirl
of such love
and all you ask
in return
is to be loved
and love you i must compelled by god
or some invisible force

i just want so much to be here for you
you my darling who brings so much joy

every laugh has an echo
every movement a feat
i humble in your complexion so perfect so complete
you who brings joy
into the world

in your eyes lie a heaven in your voice sweet caress it is you who takes over whose gentle arms i rest
you who brings joy
into the world
makes me swirl of such love
