Paula Cole, Free

I keep walking down the same city streets
The same city lines, to the same lonely beat
People say hello but I don't know what to say
I don't know how I feel, I just can't act that way
I wanna hide form all these strangers
I wanna run home to you
All I need is your compassion
Then we can be free, yes
I wanna be free
I wanna be free

Oh the way I'm shut out by your silence It's the loudest thing I've ever known You leave me, leave me hanging 'til I feel useless with my hope Oh it's lonely in the city It can be lonely next to you Just have the courage to open up to yourself Then we can be free, yes I wanna be free I wanna be free I wanna be free
