

Paulson, Most Unfortunate

Don't spend your life making up your mind.

Choose your way to bleed, eat, love, sleep, and breathe. Model a life that most resembles it. Decadent.

I'm not convinced this is who I am. But I can't waste this work put into my mistake. I'm not convinced.

(If I've learned anything it's that we're blank to this date. If I've learned anything it's that I don't need.

Don't waste your life making up your mind. I'm not convinced we're supposed to die.
One chance. One try. One turn to live this life. No where. No why. No wrong. No right.
