

Pearl Jam, Love You, Hate You

Doctor said I, I'd be alright
Oh, everything that I believed, it wasn't true
I found it out when I got close to you
I thought you were different, like a dream
Things they ain't never what they seem, whoa
Thought I could trust you with my soul
But you can't do that anymore
The doctor said I'd be alright, but I still feel blue
The doctor said I'd be alright, but I still love you
Love you, hate you...
Love you, want you, hate you...
Ah, yeah...

I'm different
Me myself, I'm different than all the rest
I can only speak for myself, but people can trust me
