

Pearl Jam, Mind Your Manners

I've got an unfortunate feelin'
I've been beating down
I feel I don't believe
And now the truth is coming out
What they've taken is more than a vow
They've taken your innocence
And then they throw them on a burning fire

All along they're sayin'
Mind your manners

I caught myself believin'
That I needed God
And if it's hard for some
We sure could use it now

Try my patience
My patience tried
This world's a lonely living
That makes me wanna cry

All along they're sayin'
Mind your manners

It's all they're sayin'!

Self-realized and metaphysically redeem
May not live another life
May not solve a mystery
Right around the corner
Could be bigger than ourselves
We could will it to the sky
Or we could something else

No longer sayin'!
Mind your manners!

Always praying!

Self-realized and metaphysically redeem
May not live another life
May not solve a mystery
Right around the corner
Could be bigger than ourselves
We could will it to the sky
Or we could something else

Go to heaven
That's swell
How do you like it
Livin' hell
