

Pedro The Lion, Of Up And Coming Monarchs

sunken ships rest upon the ocean floor where i've made my home to dodge the draft once more there once was a time when one could flee to the north but canada's not what she used to be boycott the war, well she could not afford to thanks to the new american queen

swim with me
and we'll escape all the troubles of the present age finally free

the mermaids teach us how to breathe beneath the line that now divides action from apathy

finally free
