

Pegz, What Would Happen?

what would happen if today was your last?
would u wake up early get blazed in the park?
would you get off your face in a bar?
would u make love sniffin cocaine in a spa?
would ya say sorry for mistakes in your past would you try and forgive her for breaking your heart?
would u get what you came to ask before you're gone, write a letter or record a song?
would you scuba dive, sky dive, hire a ferrari, penthouse party, set fire to ya money?
would you rob the bank, house the homeless, donate your organs to lousy smokers?
would you focus on ya close fam, cook up a feast of cray fish and spit roast lamb?
would you go back home, walk the streets cause some beefs, get off your guts and talk to police?
would you dance to your favourite track if it was played full blast on a train that's packed?
would you hijack a plane and crash it into parliament, for the freedom to protest an arguement?
would you wish you could rewind and start again?
stop playin the harlequin.

Chorus:

wake up tomorrow morning
see the sun shine bright
wake up tomorrow morning
see the sun shine bright.

would you surf the crowd at a james brown concert sing everyword and drink till you vomit?
would you wanna meet the queen or Dali Lama, would you wanna meet George Bush or Osama, w it's what you've done not where your at or from brother.

are you chained to a desk are you brave with your heart are you diggin in the trench in the rain and i've got something that i came to ask, what would happen if today was your last?
are you sittin on the bench, are you makin your mark? afraid of the future and ashamed of the past i got something that i came to ask, what would happen if today was your last?

{chorus}

would you try a threesome in the back of a commodore, with a box of cadbury chocolate body sauc would you want it all, tour the Greek Islands?
safari through the Congo to see lions would you know the mystery of the amazon, would you know the history of the land you're on?
would you know the industry's a paragon for slimy mother fuckers like alan bond?
would you save earth?
or finish a days work?
it's to late, your spirit's a caged bird.
would you make it worth your while, go tonight, take a bus, steal a posty's motorbike?
would you globalise and let everybody know, we're all victims of economic growth?
would you make a menze?
savour every second take revenge on your boss with a heavy weapon would you let 'em know your darkest secret?
reveal all in your partners grieving?
would ya escape from a Divvy van?
fuck like your being taped on mini cam?
what would happen if today was your last?
that's what i came to ask.
