

Pennywise, Judgment Day

Who ever knew there's be days like these
When the world could knock us to our knees?

We didn't fear the future or regret the past

We knew our days we're numbered and it couldn't last

The world's gone mad it's so hard to believe it's like a bad dream version of reality

And now we don't know which way to go
And the pressure is building and it's ready to blow
I never knew there would be days like these

Hooray-It's judgement day-We had it good till now-now there's hell to pay

A moments time-we're all gonna blow it away

Poor me-It's my own tragedy I was born in a time of lunacy

It was all fun-but now we're gonna pay

Whoever thought there would come a day when the world

As we know it could be stolen away-we didn't see it coming 'til it

Was too late and now it seems like the news is getting worse everyday

Watch it go down it doesn't matter to you but when it comes to an end
Well then you will know the truth
