

Pennywise, Just For You

Confusion just sets in it always does where does life begin you never know you won't know until it hits you
You never act the same
You always play the game
You play to kill
You won't see it coming
You wanna see a change for tomorrow
You wanna see a change just for you Depression closes in you can't escape no one understands they can't relate you won't know until it hits you
It never goes away feel it everyday your only hope it could change tomorrow
You wanna see a change for tomorrow
You wanna see a change just for you
You wanna see a change before you throw it all away
Something has gotta break
Just for you break through tradition break through to life hold onto anything you can find
