

Pennywise, The Secret

listen children I've got a secret one that they don't want me to tell I hope you register this little message it's the only way you can stay outta hell don't ask your parents they ain't gonna tell you cause they've already taken the fall thank your lucky stars for the enlightenment cause now it ain't no secret at all we're gonna die off in time we're only gonna die off in time until we stop succumbing to mankind, don't get me wrong I don't want to soil your future it used to be so squeaky clean it ain't my fetish to extend this pessimism or blow rain clouds over your scene I got the notion I got the feeling that this thing doesn't have to end this better up your suspicion if not there's only one result my friend hey mom and dad please don't hate me just cause in me you see your lost youth did I evolve into an adult organism? do I blow myself away?
tell me the truth good intentions yeah I got 'em plan for the future or pray for the end this had better raise up your suspicion
if not there's only one result my friend
