

Pensive Lane, Take

you should never lose control just be nice and beautiful that's what people tell you that's what people think to know you should only love one girl in your small and perfect world but at least it's your choice if you fly or fall so take what you want whatever you get whenever you need
and don't care for everyone you can't care for everyone but some people are so blind preaching water drinking wine speaking wise and polite and the reason is just fear so believe there comes the day when you' re old and weak and gray it's still only your choice if you walk or crawl so take what you want whatever you get
