

Perfect Attendance, In Remembrance Of You

The picture that you've painted
Is worth a thousand words,
And each word speaks of your love,
And each one of them hurts.
You didn't hesitate, you said it had to be
But I'm so good at failing
How could you do this for me?

Now here away from home
See that I'm not alone
Your blood has made me new,
And I break this bread in remembrance of you.

I try to do things my way.
I get so far off track.
But your arms are wider than the ocean,
Everytime I that I come back.
The world hated you,
When you were without fault.
And the world wants to love me.
Though I've done nothing good at all.

Now here away from home
See that I'm not alone
Your blood has made me new,
And I break this bread in remembrance of you.

I could never re-emberse you,
For the gift you given me.
But I will accept it gladly,
Because it's you I want to please.
I could never live without you,
And the faith you put inside.
Because you've been there every morning,
And you'll be there every night.

Now here away from home
See that I'm not alone
Your blood has made me new,
And I break this bread in remembrance of you.
