

Periphery, Thanks Nobuo

Taking a look
Your past is the weight that takes hold of your brain
Same as before
The shock ripping through
It all hits the floor
You fear it, so feel it
Feel the apparition selling me lies
He'll eclipse the beacon holding light
A bleeding contradiction
We'll never harmonize, you and I
The void shall be your way

Another trigger in mind because it says so
Says so
Cut out the perilous lies
Beyond the deathblow we go

The past position was wearing me down
But this preservation's newly found
The contradiction was bleeding me dry
You and I will never harmonize

Nothing lasts forever, and thank God it doesn't Drifting towards the center of serenity
The dark of night has given way, and thank fucking God it did
Whether eternally, or just a moment, bask in the light

Another trigger in mind because it says so
Says so
Cut out the perilous lies
Beyond the deathblow we go
Another trigger in mind because it says so
Says so
Cut out the perilous lies
Because it says so, says so
Beyond the deathblow we go
You fear it, so fear it

Nothing lasts forever so you've gotta make it right
Drifting towards the center
You've gotta remember
This is a moment divine
A silent wave
For just a moment in time, the patterns are aligning
Now the climb to bask in the light

They know it never mattered what they had known
They know that part of him that shines like so
They know it never mattered what they had known
They know that part of me that shines like gold
The curtain drops closed
I don't wanna go
Pardon me, the past is over
The curtain drops closed
I don't wanna go
Rest the soul
Shine like gold

They know it never mattered what they had known
They know that part of him that shines like gold
They know it never mattered what they had known
They know, yeah
Rest the soul, shine like gold
