

Perry Como, A World Of Love (That I Found In Y

(. . . hmmm in a world of love that I found in your arms!)

I have dreamed many dreams,
And I've shared one or two,
But the best dream of all,
Didn't start coming true,
'Till my heart felt that glow just a moment ago,
In a world of love, that I found in your arms . . .

(In a world of love, that I found in your arms . . .)

And as soft as your touch,
And as deep as your sighs,
Was that warm tender look,
I could see in your eyes,
Shining bright as the day while it showed me the way,

(To a) world of love, that I found in your arms . . .

(To a world of love . . . that I found in your arms!)

Only one sweet embrace,
And I knew then and there,
That as long as I live,
Nothing else will compare,
With the thrill of tonight when my heart saw the light,
(In a) world of love, that I found in your arms . . .

In a world of love, that I found in your arms . . .
In a world of love, that I found in your arms . . . (to fade)

Original French title "Le Ciel, Le Soleil et La Mer"
Music by Francois Deguelt and English lyrics by Judy Spencer