

Pete Doherty, Lady don't fall backwards

Once upon a time
When the cold wind that blows
When the cold wind that blows in my heart
It was a summer's breeze
And she'd meet me
In Chinatown for opium and tea
And she always brought me flowers but I spared you those old ballads some songs I couldn't play every giro day
Where you'd dress me like a ladyboy And take me high out of the way don't let the horse chase the new deal away for make love in the morning I see your eyes look like two marbles in my head
But Lady don't you fall backwards Come on fall into my arms no, don't you fall backwards
I wouldn't want for you to come to any harm And tell me if the darkness comes then, I will sing you a song where I will love you forever or at least Till the morning comes But don't you fall backwards Come on and fall into my arms
