

Peter & Paul, Beauty Of Nature

[Peter's intro]

Aah-ah

[Peter's verse]

Behold how beauty, full is the world. Sun and clouds, you have in within reach.
The sky is your balcony and ground like field of vision.

[Peter's bridge]

So if you're happy due views of nature to remember that like is adventure?

[Peter's chorus]

Beauty of nature is hidden, nay you don't perceived that live in a miracle.
Must realise you don't, live, alone.
For mother nature, look after this the world.

[Paul's verse]

Acid rain, sweepings, how many is it? Smog, noise, refuse - that's going too far!
How the world could be nasty, after all this is our everything.

[Paul's bridge]

So you don't look at hovel...
Rivet the thesis and its power.

[Paul's chorus]

Beauty of nature is hidden, nay you don't perceived that live in a miracle.
Must realise you don't, live, alone.
For mother nature, look after this the world.

[Peter and Paul's prelude]

You think - nature is your car or the latest flat which it would be hard to leave.
Existence is you friend.
Fine to live in clean and abundance, don't you?
Everybody use of laws, of nature.
So everybody embellish her.
Respect quiddity, improve da-damage.
Stop once and close eyes, listen to blast.

[Peter and Paul's bridge]

So if you're happy due views of nature, remember this song and its lecture.

[Peter and Paul's chorus]

Beauty of nature is hidden, nay you don't perceived that live in a miracle.
Must realise you don't, live, alone.
For mother nature, look after this the world. /X2

[Peter]

Ooh, ooh... For mother nature, oh, oh, oh, oh, ouu!

[Paul]

Must realise!

[Peter]

Oh how remember, no, how, no!
Look after this the world!