

Peter And The Test Tube Babies, Easter Bank Holiday

Planned down to the last detail, this one job that couldn't fail.
Broke in on the night before, one guard no trouble to the four.

Seven million on that day, and now they're clean away.
Seven million on that day, on that Easter holiday.

When the staff arrived at noon, they were forced to open the strong-room.
Armed with guns but they weren't needed, 'cos their orders all were heeded.

With all that cash they go away, the coppers sick not much to say.
One of Britain's biggest robberies, on Easter Bank Holiday '83.