

Peter And The Test Tube Babies, Too Many Broken

Last night you talked about leaving, I said I can't let you go.
It's not just emotional feelings, you've got my money and blow.
You gave me one good reason to leave me, I'll give you ten quid if you want to stay.
Get back in that bloody kitchen, I'll be hurt, I'll be hurt if you don't cook my dinner.

There's too many broken hearts in the world,
too many dreams to be broken in two.
There's too many broken hearts in the world,
so I won't give up the fight for you.

The world is full of lonely people ?
Well that's bloody tough.
Last night I tried to knob you, but you wouldn't wake up.
So won't you wait a bit longer, I'll give you all that a lover should give.
It's not my brain but my lust that is stronger, I'll be hurt, I'll be hurt if you look away.
