

Peter Andre, Lovely

if you ever heard the word, i just don't care baby please forgive the foolish heart, that's all you have when the road got rough, i started doubting myself still i can't believe the lives, we're the living with anybody else

so why do we say goodbye
when we know we'll only cry we're gonna be lonely (gonna be lonely) and why do we fool ourself saying there'll be someone else for me there's you only (gonna be lonely) all we need to make it right is precious time but it's funny such a simple thing's so hard to find don't know when or where we started living separate lives but i know it's still worth fighting for, i see it in your eyes

when we know we'll only cry
we're gonna be lonely (gonna be lonely)
and why do we fool ourself
for me there's you only (gonna be lonely)

now i realise that i been living so selfishly so where along the way i forgot you had your own hopes and dreams i never meant to make you weak, but i was too blind to see i been hurting you how i made you blue, now guilt is killing me

when we know we'll only cry
we're gonna be lonely (gonna be lonely)
and why do we fool ourself
for me there's you only (gonna be lonely)

when we know we'll only cry
we're gonna be lonely (gonna be lonely)
and why do we fool ourself
for me there's you only (gonna be lonely)
