Peter Cincotti, I'd Rather Be With You

(Music & Drics by Peter Cincotti)

It's been a while since I saw you And I don't know what to say I've flown around the world in circles since fame and fortune came my way Girls are all around me now it's true But you should know I'd rather be with you Smiling people all around me And never meaning what they say All the women that's around me Pretend they love me all the way But I don't have to wait until I fall To realize they don't really care at all Now all I can do is to rely on my feelings Now I'm thinking of you And my heart is revealing that I love you When I come home again I'll find you And I'll be singing you this song And then I'll kiss you and remind you I have loved you all along Even though I'm loving what I do But now you know I'd rather be with you With you, you
